RIVER CLAIMS FIRST VICTIM OF THE YEAR

Rudolph Secky, Tailor, Believed Drowned When He Fails to Return after Fishing Expedition

SKIFF AND EQUIPMENT IS FOUND BY SCOUTING PARTY

Believed to Have Met His Death Tuesday Morning in Zeisler's Lake

The Mississippi river was believed to have claimed its first victim this year on Tuesday morning when Rudolph Secky, 29, tailor on the second floor of the Mander clothing company building failed to return from a fishing expedition in a hunting skiff near Zeisler's lake, about two miles below the city.

Reported Wednesday

Word of Secky's drowning was reported at Central police station Wednesday morning by Emil Kubit, brother-in-law, who organized a scouting party of five early in the day to search the territory below Running slough, where Secky was believed to have met his death. The party returned with Secky's hunting skiff, coat and other equipment which he had taken along when he left on a fishing trip about 4:30 Tuesday morning.

Before leaving early Tuesday morning Secky, it was said, left word that he would return about noon. When he failed to show up at the stated time, relatives became alarmed, but it was thought that possibly he would return later in the afternoon. When he had not returned at 12 o'clock Tuesday night, his wife called Emil Kubit to ask whether he had returned.

Sees Empty Skiff

Having been told by Oscar Miller, who was downriver Tuesday afternoon about an empty skiff he had seen in Zeisler's lake, the scouting party Wednesday morning had little trouble in finding the skiff. It was upright and was holding about six inches of water. A paddle and fish pole were also in the boat. That the drowning happened during the morning was the belief when the launch he had taken with him was found untouched in his coat pocket. Members of the party who found the skiff were: Frank Monis, 24, Troynek, Tony Kreutz, Frank Kornor and Emil Kubit. The skiff, which had been carried by the current into the willows, was found after a half hour's search.

Secky resided at 220 South Twenty-second street. He leaves his wife and four children. A reward of $50 has been offered by Emil Kubit to the person finding the body.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MORGAN ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNOR OF WISCONSIN

OUT FOR GOVERNOR OF BADGER STATE

WILLIAM J. MORGAN

DECLARES HE WILL ABIDE BY WILL OF COMMITTEE OF 44

Will Support Candidate Approved by that Body if Not Endorsed Himself

MADISON, Wis.—Attorney General W. J. Morgan Wednesday announced his candidacy for governor at the September primaries.

In his statement Mr. Morgan says: "I believe in and favor the primary system of nomination because it keeps a government close to the people and I would oppose any plan that would take the choice of officers out of direct control of the people."

Mr. Morgan admits, however, that there is a weakness in the primary system in that it permits the election of minority candidates. He believes the Committee of Forty-four has solved this difficulty by its plan of holding a convention and that thereby unity among those opposed to the forces of radicalism can be obtained.

Mr. Morgan says further that he will abide by the decision of the committee of Forty-four. He says: "I intend to submit my candidacy at the September primaries unless before that time it becomes apparent that some other candidate representing the principles and policies for which I stand, can command a more united support. Who the strongest candidate should be, is determined by the convention called by the committee of forty-four. If I am not endorsed by the republican nomination for governor by that gathering I will not be a candidate for any political office, but I intend to wholeheartedly support such candidate."

RIVAL FORCES WITHDRAW TO AVOID CLASH

Agreement for Armistice Reached Between Leaders of Irish Free State Troops and Ulster Constables

OPPOSING FACTIONS IN SOUTH IRELAND PLAN CONFERENCE

Peace Sessions to be Held in Dublin on Thursday

BELFAST.—By The Associated Press.—A truce has been declared between the Ulster special constables and the Free State troops which have been in menacing proximity along the Fermanagh border between Ulster and South Ireland, it was announced here Wednesday.

Sir Basil Brooke, commanding the Fermanagh specials, crossed into Free State territory at Blacklion, near Belleek, Tuesday and conferred with the rival leader. The interview was harmonious and an agreement was reached under which both sides will withdraw a short distance from the border line to avoid risk of a clash.

The pact does not bind the supporters of Eamon De Valera who are massing on the shores of Lough Lene, near Garrison, from where they are keeping constant watch on the specials. Tuesday evening a dozen motor cars brought reinforcements for the republicans.

REAL FLOOD COMING BY SATURDAY SAYS WEATHER BUREAU

Fourteen-foot Stage of Water Assured by the End of the Week

RIVER RISES NEARLY FOOT IN PAST TWENTY-FOUR HOURS

Pettibone Park and Sections of City are Inundated

WITH the Mississippi here already in the past 24 hours, reaching a stage of 12.1 Wednesday morning, the weather bureau predicted the stage would be 14 feet by Saturday.

The water is steadily invading the Green section of North La Crosse, surrounding houses and flooding cellars. Residents of that section were leading around in rubber boots today. By tomorrow they will be using boats to go to and from their houses.

The driveway which encircles the island and a few high pieces of land, some remained out of water in Pettibone park Thursday. Owners of households and boat houses were busily engaged today in providing additional moorings for their boats to prevent them being swept away by the swift current. Thus far everything along the water front is safe, although chains and wire cables have been utilized to moor some of the boat houses.

The Mississippi river today presents the appearance of a big lake extending almost from bluff to bluff north and south of the city. Farmers in close island are marooned, all roads and sections of their farms being under water. Low-lying sections of French Island are inundated.

According to the weather bureau reports the water rose in 24 hours nine-tenths of a foot at Winona, eight-tenths at Reeds, six tenths at Red Wing and three-tenths at St. Paul.

The Chippewa river is far over its banks and is swelling the flood in the upper Mississippi.

13 Feet at Winona

WINONA, Minn.—The Mississippi river at Winona reached a stage of thirteen feet Wednesday and was still rising. The flood stage is six feet, but river men here do not believe that the crest will reach that mark.

No serious damage has thus far been caused by the high water, although a few cellars in low ground near the river front are partially flooded as a result of seepage.

The rise in the river in the past twenty-four hours was about a foot. The city was without power for almost two hours Wednesday morning as a result of a series of pushouts at the local power stations due to high water, but current was restored before noon.

Traffic across the Interstate bridge here has been prohibited as a precautionary measure due to the high water on each side of the dike at the Wisconsin approach to the bridge. The water has not yet reached the top of the dike.

Flood Checked at Oconto

OCONTO, Wis.—The flood waters, which have inundated sections of Oconto, have been slowly receding Wednesday morning at a rate of about an inch an hour.

Telephone advices from Oconto Falls and Stiles, Wis., reported that the river had fallen six inches at those points since midnight and a further fall was anticipated.

Cold Halts Rise

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Although the Fox river was still rising Wednesday and had not yet reached the peak of the flood, due to increasing flood water from the Wolf river tributary, this city experienced improved conditions because of the change to cold weather, which put an end to Tuesday's heavy rainfall. Flood conditions at the extreme south and north ends of the city subsided during the night and the only serious situation was in West Algona, where Sawyer Creek, which feeds into the Fox river, has overflowed its banks in a wide area.

MADISON EDUCATOR DEAD

MADISON, Wis.—R. R. Dudgeon, former city superintendent of schools of Madison for twenty-nine years, died Wednesday. He is a brother of M. S. Dudgeon city librarian at Milwaukee.

MAY PROPOSE AGREEMENT TO LIMIT LAND ARMAMENT FOR A DEFINITE PERIOD

COMMITTEE DRAFTS RESTORATION PLAN FOR RUSS REPUBLIC

Soviet Held Responsible for Damage Suffered by Foreigners in Russia

RUSSIAN DELEGATES ASK FURTHER INTERPRETATION

Report Declared Merely Basis for Negotiations

GENOA.—By The Associated Press.—The Russian soviet delegation to the economic conference is staggered and amazed at the sweeping political changes in the soviet government suggested in the report of the allied experts in Russia now before the sub-committee entrusted with formulating plans for Russian reconstruction.

Lenin, Trotsky, Chicherin and others of the bolshevik leaders have repeatedly said that the recognition of Russia's old debts would be a subject for negotiations looking toward the recognition of the soviet republic. The demands embodied in the report for general recognition of the rights of personal property and better protection for foreigners, contemplates changes in the soviet government, however, which would be in the opinion of the Russian delegation, as expressed today, wipe out communism utterly and impair the sovereignty of the Russian government.

GENOA.—By The Associated Press.—Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain is expected to propose at the earliest opportunity probably at Thursday's sitting of commission No. 1 of the economic conference, a pact or undertaking that no nation shall attack another, thus abolishing the possibility of war for the duration of the pact. Reuter's correspondent says he has learned.

GENOA.—By The Associated Press.—Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain contemplates suggesting an agreement for limitation of land armaments in Europe for a definite period, according to an unverified report, before the adjournment of the present international economic conference. The Army holiday it is thought, will be patterned after the naval holiday completed at the Washington conference.

Disarmament continues to be the most discussed question among the delegates, although barred from formal consideration following the initial file between the French and Russian delegations when M. Chicherin, soviet foreign minister, endeavored to bring it before the conference.

French Attitude Unknown

Asked if France would be disposed to discuss disarmament at some later conference, M. Barthou, French delegation head, replied: "If I wanted to save the east, pleasant thing, my answer would be yes, and yet the real answer of France is, we don't know."

"I don't forget that we have before us a great army in Russia and, while Germany certainly is not a menace at present, we have a menace in the potentially great German army of the future. You have perhaps observed the anomaly of the German chancellor's speech before the Genoa conference. We do not know what Germany will do, but I can say this—my latest official reports from Paris do not indicate that Germany is in a tranquil spirit concerning the vital matters embodied in the Versailles treaty."

Puts It Up to League

M. Barthou emphasized that a disarmament program is now under consideration by the league of nations, which he said, would doubtless give it proper attention.

Organization Economic Board

Organization of the economic commission of the conference was effected today by the election of M. Celat, French under secretary of state, as president. The commission then took up the question of the formation of a sub-committee and the appointment of such a commission composed of twelve members, was agreed to after considerable debate.

The commission on transport also offered organization by election of Premier Tonnus of Belgium as president. A sub-committee composed of 12 delegates was formed.

"MANNERS" DISCUSSED BY SUPT. M'CORMICK

Girls' Quartette Gives Several Good Selections

Superintendent B. E. McCormick addressed the assembly last Wednesday on the topic of "Good Manners."

"A boy without manners is a sissy, and a sissy is one who has his backbone where his backbone ought to be," the speaker stated.

Superintendent McCormick went on to show that in every walk of life—home, school, or business—a person is judged according to the courtesy and respect he pays his associates and superiors.

He also spoke of the opportunity afforded a grade school graduate, who by his courteous manners, attracted the attention of an interested person through whose influence he was enabled to continue his schooling.

In conclusion Mr. McCormick said that much improvement might be made in the manners of the high school students, and urged that they practice answering courteous when spoken to, and further asked that the boys be more courteous to the girls by allowing them precedence in going from the rooms.

Proceeding Supt. McCormick's address, several musical selections were well interpreted by a quartet from the Girls' Glee Club composed of Sarah Magdeson, Dorothy Robinson, Dorothy Prizzell, and Clara Wagner who sang: "When I Was Young," "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," "Chicken Song."

Mark Esch as chairman of the assembly introduced the speaker, and the speech with a few well chosen remarks.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST

Roberta Lauenette won first place in the preliminary declamatory contest held last Tuesday. She gave "The Soul of the Victim." Her manner was easy, her voice flexible, and well modulated and she showed excellent possibilities.

Margaret Bartz, who received second place, gave "Saint John's Fund" in a convincing manner.

Both of the declamations were well given and it is hoped that we will be represented in the state championship contest which will be held soon.

Of those who tried out Paul Peaburg with "Bully of the Cross" and Laura Lundie, who gave "The Sign of the Cross," were given third and fourth places respectively.

Miss Briggs had charge of the contest. The judges were Miss Hayes, Miss Smith, and Miss Lindeman.

This is the second time that our school has had a contest of this kind. The number of contestants was small considering the valuable training which those who participate receive.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS BOX

A boxing tournament was held in the Hixon gymnasium last Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings after school. This was the first tournament of the kind ever held in La Crosse high school and the results were much better than had been expected. Eighty-five boxers of all classes tried out and from these, about ten men have been selected to box in the finals to be held shortly after Easter. Some very good material for future matches was found among those who tried out.

Thompson and Witz showed up well in the featherweight class while Allen was considered the best of the paperweights.

In the lightweight class, Coughlin and Larkin topped first honors. Johnson showed up best among the welterweights, and Fritz, among the middle weights.

In the light-heavy class, John Mattox took first against a large field of entrants. Punham, Taggart, and Lascovec captured first from an equally large field of heavyweights.

A swimming meet will be held this week, for which there are one hundred and fifty entries. It is hoped that the audiences for the swimming meet will be even larger than those for the boxing contest, and that the results will be even more pleasant.

SCHOOL GOSSIP

Miss Cook, a student teacher, is instructing Miss C. Hayes' modern history class.

The "Noia Bena" Latin club, which was formed by the Latin classes, held its second meeting last Saturday evening at the home of Miriam Martin.

New members were initiated. Every pupil in both of Mrs. Irish's biology classes is making observations on some particular tree in his neighborhood which he identifies and takes continuous notice of, as to leaves, bark and any developments as spring advances. This experiment in practical out-of-door study was tried in order to cultivate the power of observation of the individual, and to have an active interest in nature study.

HIKERS

At the reorganization meeting of the Hikers last week Marie Gurek was elected president and Hazel Mills secretary and treasurer. It was decided that a hike will be taken by the club every Tuesday. Every member will be awarded the Hikers' "H" upon identification of twenty-five birds, ten wild flowers, and ten trees and the completion of a ten-mile hike in one day. There was a larger enrollment this year than there had been before.

Miss Collins was absent part of last week because of illness. Miss Cook entertained her millinery class last week by reading to the girls while they were busy at their work.

Miss Frost, who is ill and has been unable to meet her classes, went home Monday. Mrs. Williams is substituting in her place.

The manual training classes under the supervision of Messrs. Pittman and Smith are making an eight page canon for the Boy Scouts of La Crosse. This canon is to be entirely made at school and an unusually fine piece of work is expected.

LIBRARY NOTES

During the first part of every semester, the President's English classes study library notes under the direction of Miss Dickinson, the high school librarian. At this time there is a contest between these classes for the greatest number averaging one hundred per cent in the final test.

This semester Miss Ledahl's third period class had the greatest number of one hundred's. In return for the earnest effort displayed by the students, Miss Ledahl gave her winning class a treat during one of their class periods.

The dinner-dance idea is a comparatively new one at the school and this spring is only the second ever featured in this school.

When Will There Be A Disarmament of Dining Tables?

Suppose everybody would recognize the fact that there's no gain but much loss in keeping up hostilities with the stomach!

Suppose the ancient aggravation of improper food on indignant digestive organs should be settled with guarantees of sensible diet and tranquil digestion!

The saving would be beyond all possibility of counting.

Yet millions go on declaring war on the stomach and accepting war in return—loading up on starchy, heavy, unbalanced and highly-seasoned food at breakfast or lunch—and wondering why comfort, happiness and efficiency are out of reach.

Grape-Nuts makes a friend of the taste and an ally of the stomach.

There's a charm and satisfaction to this delicious food which prompts appetite to say, "There's a meal!" and digestion to answer, "Thank goodness, here's peace at last!"

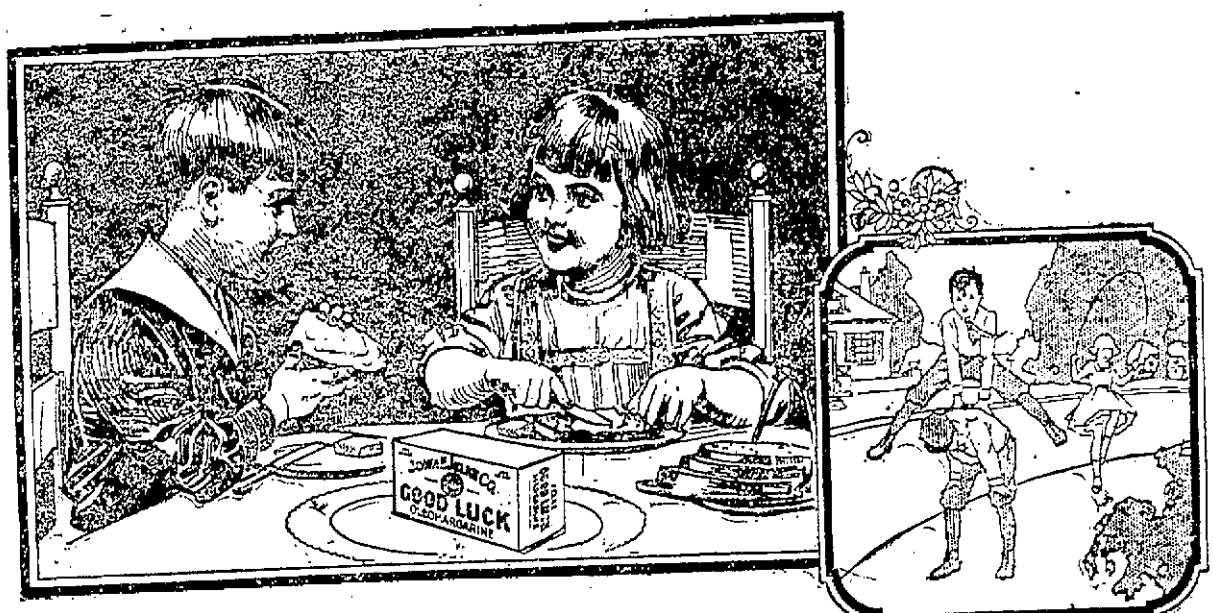

Grape-Nuts is the perfected nutriment of wheat and malted barley—sweet, crisp, and wonderfully nourishing. It digests quickly, and provides the necessary elements, including the vital mineral salts, for body, nerve and brain.

Order Grape-Nuts from your grocer today, and let a delighted taste pass a treaty of peace along to an enthusiastic digestion and assimilation.

RUSHFORD SCOUTS PLANNING SHOW TO RAISE CAMP FUND

Mr. and Mrs. McLeod and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. S. Anniversary Guests

RUSHFORD, Minn.—With their characteristic "pop" and vim, the Boy Scouts of this city are busily rehearsing their play, entitled "The Street Boy's Honor," which they will put on here the evening of Friday, April 21. Prof. Weld of Houston, will coach the boys. The Scouts want to go camping this summer and the show is a benefit for them.

When four certain Rushford residents came out to the regular meeting of the Eastern Star Lodge, last Friday evening, at the Masonic Temple here, they found themselves guests of honor of the organization. Mr. and Mrs. John McLeod recently celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home here while Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parish celebrated their fiftieth anniversary at the home of their son, Wm., at Long Beach, California, while on a visit there. When the Parish's returned to their Rushford home a few days ago, the other members of the Lodge decided that the occasion must be observed in fitting manner for both couples. Therefore a reception was held and luncheon served at the Temple. Two separate wedding cakes were made and one placed before each "bride" who cut and served it.

Caswell went down to La Crosse last Saturday evening to see Mrs. Caswell and their son, Gladys, the latter being a patient for the past three weeks in the St. Francis hospital there. Mrs. Caswell has been with the son since he was obliged to submit to an operation for appendicitis three weeks ago. Because of the serious nature of the case, the appendix having burst, his recovery will be much slower. He will be obliged to remain there four more weeks but his mother will remain with him until he can be brought home. He is doing as well as possible under the circumstances.

Mrs. S. Shinnick and two sons are guests of relatives near Harmony, during the Easter vacation.

Among the young people home from their work as instructors and students in other cities we note the Misses Esther Julrud, Marion Ness, Geneva Solvig, Geneva Halverson, Thera Anderson; also Lewis Robinson, Alvin and Arthur Carrier, Oliver Holmes.

Mrs. Margaret Carrier and two sons, Alvin and Arthur, who have made their home in St. Paul since last September, are guests of relatives in and around Rushford during the Easter vacation. Alvin and Arthur are students at the Agricultural College and one of the high schools, of St. Paul.

MAKE APRIL STATE CLEAN-UP MONTH ASKS HEALTH BOARD

MADISON, Wis.—"Make April your clean-up month" is the effect of a plea to local communities emanating from the state board of health. The practice of a spring clean-up already is common in most localities, with far-reaching results in eliminating flybreeding conditions and nuisances. Many cities designate certain public expense, thus securing the largest co-operation of citizens in the collection and disposal of accumulated refuse.

Files are already in evidence around homes, and early removal of breeding places is advocated to cut off their source.

Although private citizens often take the lead in local clean-up activities, it is held this should constitute the duty of the public authorities.

"No clean-up campaign can be a success," says the statement, "without the earnest co-operation of the officials most directly concerned, especially those charged with the collection and disposal of refuse."

James Fenimore Cooper wrote 70 books in 20 years.

New York's "Illiterate" New York city has a complete list of the illiterates in the city and an effort is being made to reach these persons with the thought of improving their condition by an effort to educate them. There are 250,000 names on the list.

Gentlemen:

We had samples of our most popular washable silks, crepes de Chine, satins, and messalines tested with Lux. Each sample was given the number of launderings it would receive as a garment.

The silks were in excellent condition at the end of the tests. The satins did not "nap up" nor did the crepes de Chine pull or look "wavy" as they often do after washing. The colors remained clear throughout. A strong soap will cause it, and causing it to wear out more quickly.

The results obtained with Lux speak for themselves, but we should like to say that we feel our success with it is due only in part to its flake form. The chief element is its absolute mildness and purity which permits the sheenest and most delicately colored wash-silks to be laundered with it in entire safety.

Very truly yours,

AGRICULTURAL BODY FROM CALIFORNIA TO VISIT WISCONSIN "U"

Commission Named by Western Governor to Study System of Agricultural Education

COMMISSION TO OUTLINE PLAN OF INSTRUCTION IN ITS STATE

Prominent Agriculturists in California on Board

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The commission of agricultural education, named by Governor W. D. Stephens, will visit and inspect the University of Wisconsin on April 21-22. The members of the commission have selected the leaders among the universities at which the state agricultural and engineering colleges are combined, and located upon the same campus, with the other colleges.

The commission, created by legislative enactment, has been charged with the duty of outlining a definite program for the future instruction in agriculture of California men and women.

Before leaving for Wisconsin the commission visited the various branches of the university in order to have definitely what is being done for the development of agriculture and to be in better position to compare the work on the Pacific coast with that done in some of the other leading agricultural states of the Union.

In addition to Wisconsin, the Californians will visit several of the leading universities of the country. The visitors will be headed by A. C. Harrison, a leading grower of citrus fruits, who has been prominently identified with the agricultural and educational interests of his section of the state.

In naming the commission, Governor Stephens selected as one of the members William S. Clifford, widely known throughout Wisconsin, who is at the University of Wisconsin, and who has won numerous prizes for his competency in live stock judging, in work in soils, and horticulture. At the present time Clifford is managing a large dairy county ranch devoted to fruit and live stock.

The other members of the commission are: Dr. Elwood Mead, chairman of the California State Land and Natural Board, and widely known throughout the country for his work in afforestation and engineering. Mead was the first graduate in agriculture at Purdue University.

J. James Hollister, one of the largest ranchers in the state and prominently identified with other farm movements will make a special study of cooperative movements and the work in animal husbandry which Wisconsin has pioneered.

In Sherman W. Barker the commission represents the National Fruit Committee of 21. He has been connected with the California Co-operative Marketing Association since 1912 and is supervisor at the present time of the California Fruit and Appliance Growers Association.

The public's point of view will be represented on the commission by Samuel G. Mortland, who is a prominent realtor in the "Golden Gate" state.

R. G. Spauld represents the University of California on the commission for besides being secretary of the Board of Regents he is assistant commander of the institution.

R. N. Wilson of Sacramento, who has been prominently identified with the agricultural interests of Utah, Virginia, Arizona, Florida, and California, will accompany the commission as secretary.

YATES AND RATHBONE WIN NOMINATIONS IN ILLINOIS PRIMARY

Lead Other Candidates for Congressmen-at-Large by Safe Margin

CHICAGO, Ill.—Congressmen Richard Yates and Henry R. Rathbone of Kenilworth, Ill., appear to have won the nominations for congressmen-at-large on the republican ticket for the regular terms at Tuesday's primary. With 2,188 precincts out of 5,758 in the state having voted, Yates had a vote of 130,807; Rathbone, 109,714; J. J. Brown of Vandalia, 72,152 and the other two candidates, Mrs. Winifred Mason Illick daughter of the late William R. Mason, and Benjamin Michalek, of Chicago, were trailing far behind.

Mrs. Illick, however, is leading in the race for the unfinished term of her father.

The democratic contests for congressmen-at-large nominations were in doubt Wednesday morning. In the districts where chief interest centered the following results were indicated from almost complete tallies:

Eleventh district—Frank R. Reed, Aurora, is leading Congressman Ira D. Copple on the basis of the vote of 183 precincts for the republican nomination. The vote stood: Reed, 17,941; Copple, 16,749.

Sixteenth district—With 145 out of 215 precincts heard from Congressman Ireland is leading William E. Hull, Peoria, for the republican nomination. The vote stood: Reed, 11,997.

The local newspapers call attention to these two races as reflecting some of the best and dryest facious. They said that both Reed and Hull are "wet" and that Copple and Ireland are "dry."

Eighteenth district—J. H. Lewman, Duellie, known as an anti-Spanish candidate in the governor's own district, has rolled up a fine lead over the republican nominee who would wear the congressional gown put aside by "Uncle Joe" Cannon.

Twentieth district—Henry T. Rainey, former congressman who was defeated in 1920, came back and won the nomination on the democratic ticket, according to returns from nearly half the precincts. Congressman Shaw, republican, had no opposition.

In no case did a sitting congressman fall of nomination.

WHO'S THIS "FOOLISH WIFE?"

No. 4—What "Foolish Wife" Does This Picture Represent?

Answer _____
Name of Contestant _____
Address _____
(Save answers until twelve are printed).

(Fourth Day Story.)

Here's one for today that all of you can guess easily! Yesterday's picture was a little harder than usual, so today we'll give you a respite from your labors. It shouldn't take much studying to identify this lady. And when you have done so you will be one-third done, with only eight more pictures to go before you can claim your share of the $150.

Don't forget about the missing fifth wife, however. It probably will happen that there will be a lot of you who will guess correctly the same number of pictures—some of you may possibly identify them all—so the Contest Editor will have to award the prizes largely on the basis of your suggestions for the missing lady.

It won't be hard to find a candidate, for there are hundreds that you might choose, but give them all the careful "up-and-down" and pick out the best one, so that you can jump home with the $50 prize.

Are you making this a family party? We know a lot of people who are doing just that, and are having a delightful time over it. Isn't it a joke to see father's face when he has been puzzling over the picture for half an hour without any results, and then 10-year-old son guesses it right off the bat? It doesn't often happen this way, but every once in awhile the kids do get the better of their elders. You know.

It's quite a comprehensive test of your knowledge, too. If the ladies in the pictures were all selected from one book, or even from one kind of book, it wouldn't be such a thorough test.

PRIZE WINNING LIST OF "FOOLISH WIVES"

Following are the names of forty-nine famous "Foolish Wives" of history, mythology and fiction. One of these is represented in the accompanying picture. If you familiarly recognize the principal facts in the lives of the following forty-nine you will be able to identify easily the figure in the illustration.

The fifth "Foolish Wife" is missing. You will notice. Each contestant is asked to suggest a fifth wife. The Contest Editor will have to award the prizes largely on the basis of your suggestions for the missing lady.

1. Admetus, wife of Prometheus, in Greek mythology.
2. Alcibiades, wife of Pericles, in Greek mythology.
3. Agamemnon, wife of Menelaus, in Greek mythology.
4. Amie, sister of Zoheld, in the "Arabian Nights" entertainment.
5. Amytis, wife of Nebuchadnezzar, in "The Ten Commandments".

6. Ann Bolton, wife of Henry VIII.
7. Bardell, Mrs., who sued Mr. Pickwick for breach of promise in Dickens' "Pickwick Papers".
8. Candour, Mrs., in Sheridan's "School for Scandal".
9. Cassandra, daughter of Priam, in Greek mythology.
10. Cleopatra, the "Serpent of the Nile".
11. Clytemnestra, wife of Agamemnon, in Greek mythology.

RULES OF "FOOLISH WIVES" CONTEST

1. The "Foolish Wives" contest will run for twelve days, starting Sunday, April 8, and ending Thursday, April 20. Each day a picture will be published representing a famous "Foolish Wife" from history, mythology, or fiction. Each day this newspaper will print the picture of one of the persons named in the list of forty-nine people which is printed today and will be repeated every day.
2. The first thing necessary to win one of the ninety-two prizes is to clip from this newspaper each day the picture of a "Foolish Wife" and mark plainly in the space provided the name of the person represented.
3. The second thing to do is to supply the missing fifth wife. Who is another famous "Foolish Wife" whose name is not among the forty-nine? In naming the fifth "Foolish Wife" letters must not exceed fifty words, and must be written on only one side of the paper.
4. Prizes will be awarded to the contestants who submit the largest number of correct answers to the twelve illustrations, and in addition submit the best suggestion for the fifth "Foolish Wife." The first prize will be $50; the second, $30; then the next 40, $1 each, and the next 50, two tickets each to see "Foolish Wives."
5. Contestants may submit as many different sets of answers as they desire.
6. KEEP ALL YOUR ANSWERS UNTIL THE CLOSE OF THE CONTEST, and then mail in the twelve pictures with your answers, together with your suggestion for the fifth "Foolish Wife," to the Contest Editor, The Tribune and Leader-Press.
7. The contest will be judged by the Contest Editor. Address all letters and inquiries to him.

Dandruffy Heads

Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Normal Notes

The regular spring vacation for the normal school started Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock. It will extend until Tuesday, April 23. During the recess there will be a convention of the teachers from all of the normal schools of the state at Eau Claire. The meeting will be held on the 18th, 19th and 20th. Miss Trowbridge was called to her home because of the death of her father. Helen Hall, a student in the physical education department, has acted as referee at several of the basketball games held at the Y. W. C. A. After a period of inactivity during Lent, the reopening of school after the vacation will see a boom in social affairs of the various organizations. The Buskin Dramatic society plans on giving its annual formal dancing party on the 28th of April.

To All Discontented Wives:

If you wives who are dissatisfied with your husbands, and the conditions that surround you, want to go on being dissatisfied and unhappy, don't go to see "FOOLISH WIVES" at the Rivoli Theater starting next Sunday.

If, on the contrary, you would like to see what happens when wives stray away from their own firesides, and how a flirtation may make you as helpless as a chip on the ocean, then go by all means.

Universal has spent one million and a half dollars in the greatest motion picture ever made, to show you what happened to one foolish wife and what may happen to you. It will thrill you to your finger tips, and it may give you an insight into real happiness.

This play takes place in Monte Carlo, the gorgeous gambling palace in the south of France, in which the most accomplished villain in Europe plays the leading role. See it and then see if your husband doesn't look better to you than ever.

Why the $10.90 USCO is better than just a $10.90 tire

On November 10, 1921, the 30 x 3 1/2 "USCO" was marked to sell for $10.90.

This odd and closely figured price was the lowest quotation ever made on any tire of known standards.

A genuine pioneering step by the makers of U. S. Tires.

Now comes a lot of different $10.90 tires being rushed into the market. "Special" tires. "New" treads.

Unfamiliar to look at—with perhaps an atmosphere of having been made to meet the price.

But the "USCO" still occupies a place by itself. A good old standby on millions of cars for years. Better than it ever was.

Still putting the emphasis on honest quality, even if it does sell for only ten dollars and ninety cents.

The $10.90 tire with the record of a proven product.

The tire that people still buy for the dignity of its quality regardless of the low amount they pay.

MAJOR LEAGUES ENTER UPON CHAMPIONSHIP RACE OF 1922

CHILLY WINDS AT COMISKEY PARK FOR OPENING WEDNESDAY

White Sox Face Browns at Chicago; Hope for Warmer Weather by Game Time

COMMISSIONER LANDIS TO WATCH SOX OPENING GAME

Manager Killefer Doped to Win Over Reds

CHICAGO, Ill.—Chilly winds will make the warming up process difficult and will serve to cool the hot season as the new major league baseball season opens Wednesday in the western cities of the big circuits. Beggling seasoners of the big circuit, and entry of another season except the weather and there were hopes that by game time the clouds might clear over and the schedules could be carried without any postponements.

Browns at Chicago

The Chicago Americans will start the season here with the St. Louis Browns as their opponents. The Chicago boys—Killefer for the White Sox and Shocker for the Browns—have been selected as the opposing pitchers. Killefer, premier pitcher of the season last season, and Shocker as a close contender for the honor of being leading twirler. Schack will pitch for the Sox and Scriver for St. Louis. K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, will watch the season get under way from a seat in the stands at Comiskey park.

The other American league game of the season will be played at Cleveland with Detroit as the visiting team. The Tigers will probably start without their manager, Ty Cobb, who suffered an injury in an exhibition game. He expects to get back in condition before making an appearance on the diamond. Manager Spink's battery selections for the opening have been announced as Cuyler and Nomanaker, while Detroit will probably use O'Hall and Riosser.

Killefer Doped to Win

Manager Killefer is expected to make a strong bid for victory by sending Grover C. Alexander against the Reds at Cincinnati. Charlie Hart, left, a recent catcher whose work in the practice games has been praised highly will receive. In the field he will be according to present indications, Eppa Rixey and Ivy Wingo will be behind the bat.

There was some uncertainty at St. Louis regarding battery selections. Eider Shender or Haines will appear on the mound for the Cardinals. The local assignment of the Browns may go to either Cooper, Adams or Glasser with coach on the receiving end.

ELKS' BOWLING LEAGUE

Golf Lacks Rooting Which Baseball Has

NEW YORK.—When the great army of American baseball rooters marched into the grandstands Wednesday for the opening of the season not only to cheer the home teams but to confuse visitors, a philosophizing golfer delivered himself of the following soliloquy:

"It may seem strange to the followers of the other sports, but golf seems to be about the only outdoor sport in which there are no rooters, either to applaud the leading player or to boo his less fortunate opponent. In a gallery of thousands, not one golfer expresses his longing for the supremacy of his favorite player, or shows any outward expression of delight when his champion's opponent is making poor shots."

T. N. T. BASKETBALL TEAM CHAMPIONS OF LOCAL Y. W. C. A.

Emerge Victorious Over H. S. Girl Reserves in Four-new Finals

The T. N. T. team, captained by Cora Bangsberg, today basketball champion of the Y. W. C. A. as the result of a 19 to 16 victory over the High School Girl Reserve team in the finals of the association tournament played in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium Tuesday evening. Their defeat in the finals gives the High School group second place in the tournament. Maude Halmmer is captain of the High School team. The "Y" letter in blue was awarded to each member of the winning team.

By the same score as that made in the championship game, 16 to 6, the Vocational School Girl Reserves, with Julia Jiracek as captain, won out over the "Gunpowders," another association team captained by Thelma Johnson, in the fight for third place. Fourth place thus goes to the Gunpowders.

Line-ups of the four teams are as follows:

T. N. T.—Forwards, Helen Lavenstein and Cora Bangsberg (captain); guards, Maude House, Hilda Lie and Sylvia Sibak; jumping center, Doris Peterson; running center, Hilda Smevor.

High School—Forwards, Maude Halmmer (captain) and Leona Stannard; guards, Janet Atkinson, Muriel Schaefer and Florence Polack; jumping center, Cora Bangsberg; running center, Bertha Lavenstein.

Vocational—Forwards, Irene Butchman and Caroline Schultz; guards, Sylvia Sibak and Irene Gorky; jumping center, Ruth Olson; running center, Julia Jiracek (captain).

Gunpowders—Forwards, Nellie Roy and Viola Kozlowski; guards, Bernice Erickson and Ruth Berger; jumping center, Della Lewis; running center, Thelma Johnson (captain).

There are runners on first and second and no one out. The batter is given instructions by the manager to bunt. The effort is a bunt. The ball is hit. The infield is playing in at the time or it would have been an easy matter to handle the fly. Is the batter out on such a play—under the infield fly rule?

On such a play the batter was not out since the ball fell safe. It was necessary to handle the ball to the infield fly rule. If an attempt to sacrifice results in a fly ball, it is not an infield fly.

THE SHOUT HEARD 'ROUND THE WORLD

MAJOR DALY'S STAMP OF APPROVAL ON FOOTBALL

By BILLY EVANS

What is the matter with football? Princeton, Harvard and Yale are all excited about that question.

The three university dailies seem to think the game is going to the bow-wow.

From our point of view the entire discussion is without rhyme or reason. As a matter of fact entirely uncalculated.

There isn't a thing wrong with football. It is a great game. The modern article is fast and snappy, replete with action. The ball is in the air much of the time. It is easy to follow the play. Sport enthusiasts like it.

The big games, with 50,000 to 80,000 in attendance, are magnificent spectacles. No matter how many you have seen there is always a thrill.

Football must be all right, a pretty good game, or the lovers of the gridiron sport wouldn't patronize it as they do.

When any sport so progresses that 50,000 people are enough interested to stand or sit at a football game through two hours of drizzling rain, as is often the case, it must be a worthwhile sport.

In every big enterprise, and football has reached such proportions, certain evils are bound to creep into the administration of the game from the playing as well as business angle.

Game is the Thing

Certain individuals err, and the action of these individuals reflect on the sport. Football and baseball, recently have passed through such a period.

However, the game is far greater than the individual. The recovery of baseball overnight after the White Sox scandal, proved the public had faith in the game, even if a few players proved false to its traditions.

Major Daly, present coach of the West Point football team, is a Harvard man. Few greater players have ever represented the Crimson on the gridiron. His career as a coach has been equally successful. No one in the football world has a higher standing than Major Daly.

GOLFER-KILLED

HAVERFORD, Pa.—Paul Hager, Turner, a Haverford college student, is dead as the result of a fractured skull, received while playing golf. He stepped behind a clubhouse just as the latter swung his club for a drive. Turner received the full force of the back swing on the head.

What is the matter with football was the question I recently put to him.

"Absolutely nothing," he replied. "It's the greatest game of them all. The evils are mighty few."

The trouble is that a few people insist on pointing out the evils of football rather than extolling its many virtues.

A lot of these college presidents, who know little or nothing about the game, would make better headway if they remained in the proper sphere.

There is more wrong with the colleges as an institution than football as a sport.

Let some of these fellows who are criticizing football pay a little more attention to the church elective courses, and other faults in the educational system, and the colleges will make for better men.

A majority of college students have too much time. Give the boys more to do, keep them busier. More evil comes from snap courses than football. I speak from experience."

Football is alright. It doesn't require any major operation as some would insist.

Harding To Toss Ball At Washington

WASHINGTON.—President Harding was to throw out the first ball Wednesday and start the Nationals and the Yankees on their way in the 1922 championship race. Official business in Washington was expected to give way largely to the event of the opening game, with members of the senate and house, high officials of the army and navy and others planning to attend, and the weather man had promised to improve the occasion with an ideal brand of baseball weather.

The pitching selections for the opening clash were Mogridge for Washington and Hoyt for New York.

A. A. PRESIDENT LOOKS FORWARD TO SUCCESSFUL YEAR

CHICAGO, Ill.—The American Association is looking forward to one of the best seasons in its history. Thomas J. Hickey, president of the league said Wednesday at the opening of the season. "Our circuit enjoyed good seasons in 1920-1921, the financial results and the interesting races being the best it ever had. This year I expect we will be even more successful."

COREY ACCEPTS KRAFT CHALLENGE FOR ROLLER RACE

Ralph Corey, who is the acclaimed roller skating champion of the city by virtue of his successes in the events at Armory hall, has accepted the challenge of Kraft for another race to be held at the Armory hall tonight. Kraft, being disqualified in the first race, is of the opinion that Corey is beatable and will attempt to make good his assertions at the hall tonight.

ELEMENTS NOT TO MAR OPENING GAME AT POLO GROUNDS

Robins and Giants Scheduled to Start Things Going in Gotham Wednesday

YANKEES IN WASHINGTON TO OPEN AMERICAN LEAGUE

Boston and Philadelphia to Bat in Quaker City

NEW YORK.—Warm weather, but overcast skies, ushered in the baseball season of 1922 here Wednesday. Weather forecasts, however, brought cheering assurance to the fans of Manhattan and Brooklyn that the elements would not mar the big day of the year for those who went to the Polo grounds to see the National league teams of the two boroughs begin hostilities.

Douglas or Nehf On

Douglas or Nehf were the pitchers considered as most likely to face the barrier for the Giants while Dutch Ruether, whose work had shown remarkable form, was looked upon as the hurler for Brooklyn with Delahanty as catcher.

The Yanks were in Washington to open the American league season. Babe Ruth went to the capital city with his team-mates, but had no hope of getting into the game as the sentence of suspension passed on him by Judge Landis was holding firm.

Braves at Philly

Boston and Philadelphia were also ready for Wednesday's opening. The National season was to be initiated in the Quaker City by the Braves, while Connie Mack's Athletics were in Boston to meet the Red Sox.

Neither Manager of the two major league pennant winners of 1921 was predicting this year threat. His team will land the pennant but each forecasts close and hard fought races.

CLEVELAND, O.—Bryan Downey, Cleveland, and Jack Malone, St. Paul, middleweights, have been matched for a ten round bout at Fort Sheridan, Ill., May 5 it was announced here.

POLITICS IS MAKING QUEER BEDFELLOWS AT GENOA MEETING

Russian Hobnobbing With Former Rumanian Prisoner; German With Bolshevik

GENOA—By The Associated Press.—Politics is making queer bedfellows in Genoa—or rather, economics is doing so, if one chooses to accept the statement, reiterated fifty times daily by its framers, that the Genoa conference is not political.

It certainly is unusual to find the soviet chief, Chicherin, sitting vis-a-vis with Constituent Assembly, four years ago the bolsheviks had 141,000 men in jail in Petrograd. At that time he was the Rumanian minister, accredited to the Kerensky government, and the diplomats of the whole world were storming against the soviet's violation of his diplomatic immunity.

The sight of Adolf Joffe and the German chancellor, Dr. Wirth, in conversation, recalls Joffe's very sudden expulsion from Berlin four years ago. He was then bolshevik ambassador in Berlin, according to the terms of the Brest-Litovsk treaty, but the German government unceremoniously loaded him and his entire staff on a special train and shipped them back to Russia, alleging they were propagandists and not diplomats.

It also seems odd for M. Dakovsky, premier of Rumania, to be sitting together at a conference called in the interests of peace. Dakovsky was an active Rumanian socialist at the beginning of the world war, and the Rumanian government interned him. Now he is president of the Ukrainian republic, federated with Moscow.

Then there is the cordially with which George greets Maxim Litvinoff. Their attitudes here do not in the least suggest the stormy time Litvinoff had in England before he became Chicherin's chief assistant in Moscow. But in four years the bolsheviks made more treaties than the other European states have completed in the past century, so the professional diplomats have to admit the Russians are no novices and must be dealt with accordingly here.

"CABIRIA"—RIVOLI
Mount Etna whose devastating lava will cover a territory sixty miles in diameter when the crater spouts, has moved temporarily to the Rivoli Theater where "Cabiria" is having a three-day run.

To obtain shots of this explosive volcano the cameramen had to take their lives in their hands literally. The opening scene of the picture shows the crater in eruption and it was necessary for the photographic staff to ascend the mountain from a safe side. Even then the constant danger of an unexpected change in the direction of the volcano's flow increased the risks of their undertaking.

"Cabiria" presents in impressive manner the story of the last Punic war. Rome and Carthage, gripped in mortal struggle, hold the center of the background as Gallic and Numidian absorbing story unfolds itself on the screen. The spectacle of the burning of the doomed city, the destruction of the doomed fleet to the destruction of the doomed city, are abundant, but they fill in the atmosphere. Of greater importance is the tender love story of Cabiria and Maciste that the poet soldier has woven into a real epic of the screen.

SHIRLEY MASON—MAJESTIC
If Shirley Mason won the heart of a crippled old miser, what chance have ordinary mortals to stand against her charm? This little slip of a star is at the Majestic Theater in "Queenie," and there is abundant evidence that the audience is delighted with her and with her play. A most unlikely place to find a young woman in an exclusive seminar for young ladies. But that is what "Queenie" is. She is not studying there, but doing odd jobs for the pupils to earn her board and lodging. A rich aunt takes her away but to the basement of an old miser's dwelling where she is a housekeeper. Before long Queenie has captured the heart of the miser. Then something happens to the loathsome old man, and a train of events is started that changes life for Queenie and everybody else in the place.

Pauline Frederick has few rivals in the dramatic power of her characterization, and her splendid art is seen at its absolute best in her new production. In this drama—a story to mother love—Miss Frederick is seen in two distinctly different characterizations as Bernice Ridgeway, a woman of strong character and powerful personality, and as Kate Martin, a pitiful wreck of humanity with every fine instinct crushed and living out her existence in the city's slums.

The HOME GARDEN

What is Home without a Garden?

FERTILIZER FOR THE LAWN

Is it your ambition to have a lawn that will be an object of favorable comment in your neighborhood? If so, then it will be necessary to feed the lawn liberally with the plant-food elements necessary to make a luxuriant growth.

Having in mind the use of stable manure for this purpose, you immediately think of an unsightly and ill-smelling yard, to say nothing of the labor involved in applying it and in taking off the coarse litter, and the price which in these days of few horses and many autos takes no back seat for high costs.

Luckily there is an easier way to realize your ambition. It consists in the use of fertilizers which are put up in bags of convenient size for any lawn, large or small. Since fertilizers are generally sold under brand names, it is safe to buy analysis, or formula. The formula is a series of figures, not unlike football signals, which express the composition in per cents as determined by chemical analysis. For example, a 6-8-2 fertilizer means one containing 6 per cent "ammonia," eight per cent "phosphoric acid," and two per cent "potash," which represent the three fertilizing elements, nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, respectively. In high-analysis fertilizers, these figures should total 11 or more. The kind and quantity of fertilizer to use depends in a large measure on the soil. A good application for the average lawn in fair condition is from ten to 15 pounds of a 6-8-2 fertilizer for each 100 square feet, applied broadcast. If the soil is very poor, is somewhat sandy, or has a tendency to pack very hard, it may be better to use a liberal quantity of dry, pulverized manure (which comes in a vermiculite condition), say from four to eight pounds per 100 square feet. This material should be allowed to remain on the lawn because it is very inconspicuous, it loses its odor very quickly, and it soon finds its way down to the soil surface a little below which are to be found the feeding roots.

Later in the season it is a good plan to top-dress the lawn lightly at intervals of six weeks or so with 6-8-2, 5-7-2 or a 3-10-0 fertilizer, and sometimes with sulphate of ammonia, at the rate of about a pound a square yard. A good time to make these applications is during, or just before a rain, which will carry the fertilizer material down into the soil to the feeding roots.

The development of a thick and velvet lawn depends much upon keeping the growth cut to a medium and constant length. Judgment will determine just how to adjust the lawn mower as regards closeness of cutting. A good rule to follow, at least during the early summer months, is to cut the grass whenever an inch or an inch and a half of growth is made. When cut in this manner the clippings should be left on the lawn to form a grass mulch over the surface of the ground.

Where All Could See
My most embarrassing moment was experienced at an evening church wedding a short time ago. As we were late, most of the seats had been taken, so it was necessary to go almost to the front pew. I sat down and calmly removed my hat, when to my mortification my escort asked if I thought I was at the movies. The hat was hurriedly adjusted, but I felt self-conscious during the entire ceremony.—Chicago Tribune.

CAFE VENTURE OF CAPITOL MUTUAL CLUB SUCCESSFUL

Workers in State Building Prove that Restaurant Can be Run at a Profit

MADISON, Wis.—State employees engaged in restaurant business on a large scale, and as a co-operative enterprise, are making a success of their undertaking, the first report of the Capitol Mutual club to be made to members next week will show.

While the financial report which shows the progress of the co-operatively operated restaurant in the basement of the $8,000,000 capitol building, is not public, members of the directing board say that it has proved a "great success financially."

The plan of having the capitol cafe operated co-operatively by the Mutual club, an old social and fraternal organization of state employees, was undertaken after complaint had been made against former managements.

Funds were raised among the capitol workers, 105 of the employees subscribing $2,500 needed to equip the cafe and open it for patronage. Subscriptions were made in denominations ranging from $5 to $50 on which 7 per cent interest is paid.

After several months of operation, under the direction of a manager chosen by the directing board of the club, the cafe is said to be paying large dividends and to be in a position to start payment of its obligations. It is proposed that all earnings be turned back to employees in the form of rebates after debts are met.

Co-operative management is said to have been a success, both financially and as an incentive to membership in the mutual club, whose roll has increased to nearly 350 since the restaurant was opened under direction of the employee's organization.

WINTER GRAIN CROP INJURED BY ADVERSE WEATHER CONDITIONS

Winter Wheat and Clover Particularly Affected by Storms in February and March

MADISON, Wis.—Adverse weather in February and early March has caused an appreciable decline in condition of winter grains and grasses since they entered the cold months. Joseph A. Becker, crop reporter says in his monthly report Wednesday.

Winter wheat and clover are reported to have been particularly affected. With a planted acreage of 104,000 and assuming an average abandonment of 1,022,000 bushels of winter wheat can be forecast for 1922, compared to 1,424,000 bushels in 1921 and a five year average of 1,728,000.

The condition of the crop on April 1 was 58 per cent compared to 94 per cent on December 1 last, 60 per cent a year ago, and a ten year average of 84 per cent.

Much of the winter wheat acreage of the state is located in the southern and eastern districts where ice and sleet storms of February caused heavy damage to crops.

The Wisconsin crop is said to have suffered less than the wheat, due largely to the fact that the principal acreage is located in the central and northern counties, where there was a protective covering of snow during the winter. Production forecast is given at 6,041,000 bushels, compared to 4,756,000 in 1921. Condition on April 1 is reported as 92 per cent normal, compared to 95 per cent December 1, 88 per cent a year ago and a ten year average of 91 per cent.

The planted acreage is estimated at 377,000 compared to 326 in 1921.

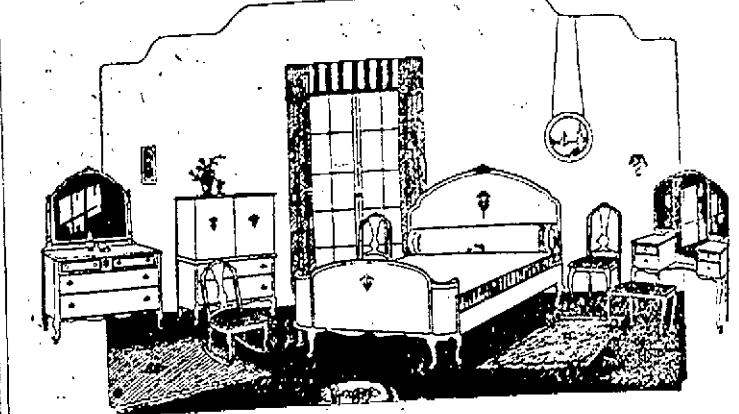

According to the report the condition of hay meadows is 87 per cent normal, as compared to 84 per cent a year ago, with the condition in the southern counties higher than in the southern half of the state.

An increase of six per cent is noted in the number of broad sows which have risen to 418,000. Three successive good corn crops are said to have stimulated hog raising in Wisconsin.

The report says that the supply of hired hands at current wages is reported at 108 per cent of a year ago and 104 per cent of normal, while the demand is 90 per cent of normal, last year and 91 per cent of normal. This indicates, the report says, that the supply is 114 per cent of the demand. Last year the supply was 102 per cent of the demand as compared to 64 per cent in 1920.
